

Post : Senior Resident

Number of posts : One

Job Description:

1. To supervise quality control, routine activities including reporting of test results in the Clinical Biochemistry Unit of the department
2. To handle & maintenance documentations as per NABL guidelines & NABH guidelines.
3. To initiate newer methodologies and newer assays for patient care.
4. To participate in academic activities including clinical meetings, interact with clinicians and discussion of the biochemical reports.
5. To be able to provide training in clinical biochemistry to personnel posted to Clinical Biochemistry.
6. To provide training & supervising technical staff as per NABL guidelines & NABH guidelines.

Essential Qualification: MBBS, MD in Biochemistry,

Desirable additional qualifications:

- i. 1 – 2 years of work experience in medium to large size (500 samples / day) diagnostic laboratory.
- ii. Knowledge and experience with NABL accredited lab functional.

Duration: 3 years

Salary: As per Institute residency scheme.

